

EDINA VIRTUAL ACADEMY

Even though we are physically distanced, EPS teachers and staff remain committed to responding to family needs, and providing our students with engaging educational experiences and meaningful connections.

SECONDARY

EVA students are enrolled in their home school in order to maintain choice in course offerings, alignment of content, and instruction provided by teachers in their area of expertise. This allows for the option to transition to a different learning model after the first semester. It also helps students keep connections with their school community providing the foundation of strong relationships between teachers and students that we know is so important to our students' social and emotional well being.

The secondary school week will include:

- Participation in at least two synchronous interactions during the week through Google Meet.
- Learning activities, feedback, and assessments will be accessed online throughout the week via Schoology, utilizing a new, consistent and aligned structure
- Opportunities for intervention/enrichment available

KEY FEATURES INCLUDE:

At least two live connections with teachers each week, and timely feedback with teachers and classmates

On-demand access to learning opportunities via Schoology

Office hours provided and posted to offer support for students and families

Teachers collaborating in a responsive manner to ensure a smooth transition between learning models, if needed
